Staff Comments*

- ARIN has not yet seen or reviewed any requests for additional or subsequent assignments to the same end site.
- The existing policy text is confusing and might indicate to some that even initial assignments of more than a /48 would need to be reviewed by staff. However, we have not done this and have allowed larger than /48 reassignments to be processed.
- In addition, the policy text contains no criteria for ARIN to use in their assessment of assignments larger than /48.
- NRPM Change – Removal of section 6.5.4.2

- ⇒ "This I am for - I think that ARIN policies ought to care solely about the justification to get more space (or retain space) and not how assigned/allocated space is redelegated."
- ⇒ "Absent an actual policy on what justifies an assignment greater than /48, we should continue to require ARIN oversight of these assignments."
